Anne-Louise Quinton

Anne-Louise Quinton

I have been a teacher of Art and Design for 24 years and trained in Exhibition and Museum design. This has helped me to work big with displays and projects at school, as well as on a small, model making scale too. I believe it is vital that young people get a great art and design education, to give them a chance to creatively express themselves, not fear failure and develop skills for life.

Twitter

Email

See Resources Below…