CORDELIA “DOO” SPALDING

Having worked in a variety of media and other commercial settings Cordelia “Doo” Spalding took the plunge and enrolled for the Visual Studies BA Hons degree at the Norwich University of the Arts. Hard work and an eclectic creative style paid off and in 2009 she graduated with a 1st and won the Principle’s Award for outstanding work.

Since graduating she has been commissioned by a wide variety of organisations to design, deliver and create workshops and public participatory installations with all ages and abilities. She also regularly works in collaboration with artist Alison Atkins and jointly their practice is known as “ME AND ER” <https://aliatkins.co.uk/meander>.
