

Arthur Beresford-Jones

“I am especially interested in line drawing and graphic novel/comic artwork. Worldbuilding gives me a certain thrill and excitement because of the endless possibilities that it offers, and the fact that its only limit is the mind. I would really love for my work to have an objective and structure, because I believe that would make the final product better. I would also enjoy the possibility of collaboration with other people in completing projects, which would teach me more about my artform, and open up gateways into new ones.”

AccessArt Resources Featuring Arthur Beresford-Jones